

Michelle Brown is a struggling small business owner that resides in the small town of Adairsville, Georgia. Just as it seems that she is about to lose everything she has worked for, she learns that she is an heiress to a multi-million dollar fortune, left to her by her biological grandfather. After fixing all of her debt issues, she moves to the Vandivere Estate in Valdosta, Georgia. That is when Michelle realizes that her blessing in disguise is truly her worst nightmare as she fights to survive the spirit of Charles Vandivere.

“I recently picked up Ava Shook’s The Story of Michelle Brown Vandivere and I couldn’t put it down. It was a marvelous read. The story jumped right out of the pages. It kept me on the edge of my seat. I loved the characters and the way they interacted. Michelle was a great character. Her strong will made me root for her all the way. I enjoyed this book so much that I’ve read it at least twenty times now. Ava’s writing style keeps you interested all the way through and delivers a great story. Truly the best book I’ve read in along time. Ava gives Steven King a run for his money.”

Ava Sprayberry Shook is a wife and mother of three. She was raised in the small town of Kingston, Georgia, until the age of eleven. She then relocated to the town of Adairsville, where she now lives with her family. She is currently in pursuit of a law degree.
